For Mark Sorrentino and other content editors

Version 1.0 · verified September 9, 2026

Use this guide for routine content changes. Rich handles design, code, hosting, domain, billing, accounts, backups, and recovery.

1. Start Here

CloudCannon is the editing system for CTUSAGym.com. It gives you forms for updating the website without touching computer code.

1. Open app.cloudcannon.com.
2. Sign in with your own email account. If your invitation is still pending, open the invitation email first.
3. Choose Rich Organization.
4. Choose the ctusagym site.

Account rule

The shared Ashton Moltbot account has been removed. Mark and Kim must each accept their invitation and use a separate personal account.

2. The Normal Editing Process

1. Choose a section from the left sidebar.
2. Open an existing item, or choose Add to create a new one.
3. Fill in the labeled fields. Use Preview when available.
4. Click Save in the top-right corner.
5. In the second Save window, check the box next to the change you want to publish.
6. Click Save selected.
7. Wait one or two minutes, then check the matching page on ctusagym.com.

Most common problem

The second Save window starts with no changes selected. If you do not check the box and click Save selected, nothing goes live.

Always finish

A change is not complete until you have checked the live website and tested every new link or download.
